LimbusFloor Subtle is a family of floor screens with a modern, light expression. The screens are robust with extra good sound absorption. The legs in solid wood are inspired by traditional trestles and gives the floor screens a free and creative expression. LimbusFloor Subtle is suited to be furnished in dynamic groups as well as repeated in rows.

LimbusFloor Subtle has the same features as the other products in the range of Limbus by Glimakra. It is available in six standard sizes that give completely new proportions and the opportunity to create new expressions. The screens are fabric covered with decorative piping on the edge. The 80 mm thick wooden frame has a solid sound absorber that provides the highest absorption. Legs in solid white stained ash resembles Glimakras long tradition of woodworking.
